

Wednesday, October 25, 2006

Dear [Humane Society International],

Thank you for your email and the enclosed articles. We share your concern and, like all the whale watching companies in Iceland, strongly oppose the recent decision of the Icelandic government to resume commercial whaling. Seatours has lobbied against whaling and will continue to do so until the whaling is stopped. We believe that the whaling is totally unnecessary and will make sure that the politicians hear our and your arguments.

We have great concerns that this decision will seriously impact the growing whale watching industry in Iceland which, in our opinion, has much more potential to benefit the Icelandic nation than the whaling ever will.

I hope this e-mail explains our views. We are very thankful for your e-mail as it strengthens our argument when lobbying with the politicians.

Best regards,
Kristrún Konráðsdóttir
Seatours
www.seatours.is